

Sponsored program

We accept sponsored articles for Daily Cauldron if they fulfill our quality standards. As you know Daily Cauldron has the goal of keeping your inner geek informed, so under normal circumstances we will only accept sponsored articles with a subject related to the usual topics you can find in Daily Cauldron or articles that may be of interest to our readers. We will examine every application to ensure they are suitable for our website. If you have any question about our Sponsored program please write us at sponsored@dailycauldron.com.

All sponsored articles must meet these requirements:

1. They must be original articles, correctly edited and including at least one relevant image.
2. They must be written in English (or available in English).
3. The Sponsored article must link to the real full article, not to any other kind of deceptive page.
4. We will not accept any article that includes any offensive or discriminatory content (text or images) against any race, religion, sex or any type of collective.
5. We will not accept any article that includes any illegal content, incitement to violence or any suspicious content.

What you will get:

1. We will publish your article on our website the agreed date (there cannot be two sponsored articles at the top of our Homepage at the same time).
2. Your article will be published using the same template as in regular posts (image, title and excerpt of 450 characters max), showing a "Sponsored" label next to it, so that it can be distinguished from the rest of articles.
3. Both the title and the "Read full article" links will link directly to the full article URL (your URL), and the image will link to an unique URL at DailyCauldron.com featuring the image, title and excerpt of your Sponsored article, with a big and visible "Read full article" button linked to your URL.
4. Once the sponsored period has ended, your Sponsored article will remain on our website timeline for one month, along with the rest of posts.

Prices:

1 Day Sticky Post , published on our website and visible at the top of our latest posts (top of Homepage) for 24 hours . After that it will remain visible in our posts timeline for a month.....	$20.00
